(b) The contention that approx. US $ 30-40 million for the wind power sector in India sanctioned by Danish International Development Agency (DANIDA) is lying unutilised is not correct.

An agreement was signed between Deptt, of Economic Affairs, Government of India and DANIDA on 22.12.1987 for Danish Aid grant assistance of Danish Kroner DKK 165 million (later enhanced to DKK 180 million) for supply of wind turbines, and erection, commissioning and monitoring of three wind farm projects, viz. Lamba (10 MW) in Gujarat; Kayathar (6 MW) and Muppandal (4 MW) in Tamil Nadu. The projects were commissioned as per schedule and handed over to the respective nodal agencies/electricity boards on 31.0S.90. The aid grant assistance has been fully utilised. There is no further Danish assistance for the wind power sector in India, which is lying unutilised.

Under another Agreement Signed in June, 1987 for a Danish grant of DKK 21.3 million for a Non-Conventional Energy Pilot Project, six wind turbines were erected and handed over to the respective State agencies/electricity boards. The project has been completed and the grants fully utilised. Danish assistance was also offered for the installation of 10 Photovoltaic (PV) Water Pumping Systems. All the Systems have been installed and the assistance has been fully utilised.
